The Sanctity of Life

Oh God, how far is man allowed to go
Before your sovereign hand shall call a halt?
When shall his cup be filled with evil fault,
And then its brim, with blood, shall overflow?
Infanticide? Abortion is the name
For such a course of self expedience.
A thrill without the inconvenience.
Society now seldom sees the shame.
To kill is an indictable offence.
Yet life, when still confined within the womb,
With conscience free, consign it to the tomb?
But life is life, so where's the moral sense?
Your holiness has long now been ignored,
But man has yet to answer to you, Lord.

WINTER SUNSET

Amid the bleak and dreary scene
That Winter brings to my backyard,
I still find rosy, warming hope
As Winter's sunset I regard.
The vivid pink and scarlet cape
Flung wide across the western sky,
Restores in me the confidence
That even Winter passes by.
God's flawless cycles of the year
Will waken Springtime, come next May,
While roses sweet, unfold their bloom
My Winter thoughts get stored away.
But in the face of each red rose
Reflected in the Springtime light,
Are hues God borrowed from the sky
When Winter's sunset beamed so bright.

Children Learn What They Live

If children live with hostility, they learn to fight.
If children live with ridicule, they learn to be shy.
If children live with tolerance, they learn to be patient.
If children live with encouragement, they learn confidence.
If children live with praise, they learn to appreciate.
If children live with fairness, they learn justice,
If children live with security, they learn faith.
If children live with approval, they learn to like themselves.
If children live with acceptance and friendship, they learn to find love in the world.
