A lady was mailing an old family bible to her brother in another part of the country. "Is there anything breakable in here?" asked the postal clerk. "Only the Ten Commandments." Answered the lady.

While There is Time

While there is time, Lord, may I use it well,
'Tis gone in a moment, one never can tell
Which day is our last one, with so much to do,
All must be in order, when summoned by You.

While there is time, Lord, and life is my own,
Let me bring gladness to someone alone.
Renew a small hope, rekindle a dream,
For shadows are never as dark as they seem.

While there is time, Lord, let me not waste
The chances you give me, I cannot replace.
Lend me Your wisdom, that I may learn
To give of myself, not ask a return.

Let me be gently, keep my words kind,
In spite of the worries, crossing my mind.
And when at long last, life's sun starts to set,
Let me have never a cause for regret.

Irish Blessings

Bless this house, O Lord, we pray.
Make it safe by night and day.
Bless these walls so firm and stout,
Keeping want and trouble out.
Bless the roof and chimney tall,
Let thy peace lie over all.
Bless the doors that they may prove
Ever open to joy and love.
Bless the windows shining bright,
Letting in God's Heavenly light.
Bless the hearth a-blazing there,
With smoke ascending like a prayer.
Bless the people here within...
Keep them pure and free from sin.
Bless us all, that one day, we
May be fit, O Lord, to dwell with Thee.

May there always be work
for your hand to do –
May your purse always hold a coin or two –
May the sun always shine
on your windowpane –
May a rainbow be certain to follow each rain –
May the hand of a friend
always be near you –
May God fill your heart
with gladness to cheer you.

Always remember to forget
The things that made you sad.
But never forget to remember
The things that made you glad.
Always remember to forget
The friends that proved untrue.
But never forget to remember
Those that have stuck by you.
Always remember to forget
The troubles that passed away.
But never forget to remember
The blessings that come each day.

May your faith be strong as a mountain wall,
And subtle as the early morning mists.
May you believe that God's power conquers all,
And his love through trouble and pain persists.
May your faith soar like a multi-colored bird,
And shine brighter than the blinding desert sun.
Because you know your prayers are ever heard
And Jesus waits when the final day is done.
And may God bless you,
The Father who rules the starry skies,
The Son who rose from the dead,
And the Spirit who comes in hope.
