FIVE GUYS – WHAT A LIFE!

I have become a lot more social with the passing of years as I now have five gentlemen in my life that I see every day.

As soon as I wake, Will Powers comes over and helps me get out of bed.

Then I go to see John after breakfast.

Then Charley Horse comes along, and when he is here, he takes up most of the morning.

When he leaves, Arthur Ritis shows up and stays the rest of the day. (He doesn't like to stay in one place very long and jumps from joint to joint so he keeps me hopping.)

After such a busy day, I'm really tired and ready to relax on the couch with Ben Gay.

What a life – me and my five guys!

The Tiny Mole

The tiny mole is one of God's amazing creatures. They are speed demons who actually swim through the earth. They are living submarines. They swim through the earth instead of water. They weigh less than one-fourth of a pound, yet in one night they can dig a tunnel through loose earth that is 300 to 400 feet long. If we were to compare this feat with a human being, it is equal to a 150-pound man digging a 35-mile tunnel in 12 hours.

The mole has no real ears, just two tiny skull holes that lead to inner ears. And its short, silky fur offers no resistance as it swims through the earth. Special hairs on its face and tail also help the mole to navigate. They eat their weight in insects and worms every 24 hours or they will die.

They are born blind, bold, and no bigger than a pea. They have a life span of about three years. The mole is one of God's most unique creatures.

The Best Day

Yesterday is but a dream
Unchangeable and gone,
Tomorrow is a vision
And still not even born.
But today is ours to live
Its treasures now to use,
And it can be our best day
We alone can choose.
The glory of the sunrise
The miracle of love,
The fragrant breeze, the verdant trees
The bird song from above.
They're ours to hold this very day

Give thanks unto the Lord.
Each task can be a blessing
With joy as our reward!
Our yesterday is gone from us
Tomorrow is yet unknown,
To make today your best day
This power is yours alone.
Give thanks for every morning,
Take whatever God will give,
And make today the happiest,
The best you'll ever live!

Around the Corner

Around the corner I have a friend
In this great city that knows no end;
Yet days go by, and weeks rush on,
And before I know it, a year is gone,
And I never see my old friends' face,
For life is a swift and terrible race.
He knows I like him just as well
As in the days when I rang his bell
And he rang mine. We were younger then,
And now we are busy, tired men:
Tired with playing a foolish game,

Tired with trying to make a name.
"Tomorrow," I say, "I will call on Jim,
Just to show that I'm thinking of him."
But tomorrow comes, and tomorrow goes,
And the distance between us grows and grows.
Around the corner; and yet miles away ...
"Here's a telegram, sir ..."
"Jim died today."
And that's what we get and deserve in the end:
Around the corner, a vanished friend.
