SMILE A WHILE:

As he returned home from school one day, my seven-year-old son announced: "I want to go to Sunday school."

Pleased, I told him that I'd find one for him.

Later he said: "Oh, boy, I can't wait to go to Sunday school. One day sounds so much better than five."

A married couple was celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary.

At the party everybody wanted to know how they managed to stay married so long in this day and age.

The husband responded "When we were first married we came to an agreement. I would make all the major decisions and my wife would make all of the minor decisions. And in 60 years of marriage we have never needed to make a major decision."

One morning an elderly lady called her neighbor and asked if he could come over to help her.

"Why do you need help?"

"I am working on a puzzle and can't figure out how to get started."

"What will the picture be when you finish the puzzle?" he asked.

"Well, as far as I can tell, it will be a rooster," she replied.

The neighbor came over and looked over the situation. "Two things," he said. "One, no matter what we do, we will not get a picture of a rooster. Two, let's sit down, relax, and have a cup of coffee. After that we can put all the corn flakes back in the box."

Irish Prayer

You've blessed me with friends and laughter and fun
With rain that's as soft as the light from the sun
You've blessed me with the stars to brighten each night
You've given me help to know wrong from right
You've given me so much, so please Lord give me too
A heart that is always grateful to you.

Jesus, I grieve that the torture and sorrow You endured on the cross were necessary to save humanity. Because You didn't want me enslaved to fear, anxiety, or sin--You sacrificed Yourself so that Love could win. It's Love that hung upon the cross and gave up everything to rescue me. "It is finished" was a cry of victory, because You defeated everything that held me in captivity. Because of Your sacrifice, I can experience intimacy with You forever. Thank You! Help me to know You more, and to reach people with the hope found in You. In Jesus' Name, Amen

God Himself cannot undo the past, but He can and does give new opportunities.

Compassion is difficult to give away because it keeps coming back.

Life is like a mirror; if you frown, it frowns back; if you smile, it smiles back.

If you get to thinking you're a person of some influence, try ordering somebody else's dog around.

Can You Trust Your Conscience?

Conscience is like a watch – it may look right, and you may go by it on the assumption that it is right, and find that you have missed your train because it was all wrong, after all. The watch must be set by the sure time, and regulated from time to time as comparison with the chronometer shows it needs.

Comparing your conscience with itself will not keep it right. Some folks who go by conscience have gone all wrong. Let the Word of God guide your conscience. Be instructed by the Bible. Don't try to make the Bible say what you want it to say but be sure to let God speak to you out of the Bible. Adapted.
