A Boy To His Dad

To get his goodnight kiss he stood
Beside my chair one night
And raised an eager face to me,
A face with love alight.

And as I gathered in my arms
The son God gave to me,
I thanked the lad for being good,
And hoped he'd always be.

His little arms crept 'round my neck,
And then I heard him say
Four simple words I can't forget
Four words that made me pray.

They turned a mirror on my soul,
On secrets no one knew
They startled me, I hear them yet;
He said, "I'll be like you."

Herbert Parker

LONELINESS

Loneliness is like a piano without keys
Like a violin without strings
Like a sanctuary without a congregation
Or a choir where no one sings.

Loneliness is like a blade of grass
Growing through a crack of cement.
Loneliness is like a camp ground
Without a single tent.

Loneliness is like a mocking bird
That cannot sing a song.
Loneliness is a feeling
That one does not belong.

Like a pansy in a corn field.
Hidden where no one can see.
I know all there is to know about loneliness
Because it lives inside of me.

Copied

The good Lord didn't create anything without a purpose, but mosquitoes come close.

People are funny, they want the front of the bus, the middle of the road, and the back of the church.

Things that go in one ear and out the other do not hurt as much as the things that go in one ear, get all mixed up, and then slip out the mouth.

Half of our troubles comes from wanting our own way. The other half comes from being allowed to have it.

The goal of criticism is to leave the person with the feeling that he or she has been helped.

Many so-called open minds should be closed for repairs.

Bad habits are like a comfortable bed – easy to get into but hard to get out of.

Faith is the soul's intake; service is the soul's outlet.

We are not only to rejoice in God's provisions for us, but also to be alert to the perils about us.

You can tell how near one is walking to Christ by the way he speaks up for Christ.

God's love for us is not a love that always exempts us from trials, but rather a love that sees us through trials.

Real help combines correction with compassion.

A saint is not one who never falls; it is one who gets up and goes on every time he falls.

Jesus came into the world to intervene for us.
Now He is in heaven to intercede for us.
